3.2.2.1 - Total number of books and chapters in edited volumes/books published and papers in national/ international conference proceedings during the year

During the academic year 2023-24, no books, chapters, or papers were published by the faculty in edited volumes or in the proceedings of national or international conferences. While the institution actively encourages research and academic contributions, there were no publications recorded under this category during the specified year.

Efforts towards Research Contributions:

Despite the lack of publications in this category, faculty members are actively engaged in research initiatives, as reflected in other criteria such as funded projects and participation in academic development programs. The institution is committed to fostering a research-oriented culture by encouraging faculty to publish in high-impact journals, contribute to book chapters, and present at esteemed conferences in the future. This aligns with our goal to enhance academic excellence and visibility on a national and international scale.
