6.5.2 - The institution reviews its teaching learning process, structures & methodologies of operations and learning outcomes at periodic intervals through IQAC set up as per norms and recorded the incremental improvement in various activities

Teaching-Learning Process Review: The IQAC regularly assesses teaching methods, curriculum relevance, and pedagogical approaches. Faculty members are encouraged to participate in workshops and training sessions to refine their teaching techniques. Surveys and feedback mechanisms gather insights from both students and faculty regarding the effectiveness of instructional strategies.

Operational Methodologies Assessment: The IQAC systematically examines administrative processes, infrastructure utilization, and resource allocation to identify areas for improvement. The institution can streamline operations and optimize resource allocation by analyzing data on student enrollment, course completion rates, and resource utilization efficiency.

Learning Outcomes Evaluation: The institution employs various assessment tools and techniques to measure learning outcomes and academic achievement. These assessments may include standardized tests, project evaluations, presentations, and practical demonstrations. The IQAC tracks student performance over time to monitor progress and identify areas needing attention.

Evidence of Impact: The institution can provide tangible evidence of incremental improvements in teaching-learning processes and outcomes. This may include higher student satisfaction ratings, improved academic performance indicators, accreditation or ranking advancements, and recognition from external stakeholders.

Overall, the IQAC catalyzes continuous improvement within the institution, fostering a culture of excellence and innovation in teaching, learning, and operational practices.
